

The People

“ On the occasions where building officials have misinterpreted code language, Fenestration Canada has been a steady and credible resource helping us resolve issues. Being a member allows us to feed into a network across the country helping us acquire the right information at the opportune moment. ”

---

“ Our Fenestration Canada membership has proven to be very valuable. In addition to solidifying existing relationships and staying current with the latest codes and standards, we have experienced growth in sales in the window and door industry since joining the organization and participating in relevant events and functions. The commissioning of two production lines, and 4 punch presses is a testament of this growth. ”

---

“ The annual events such as win-door in the Fall and conference each Spring have been valuable tools in developing great partnerships with both suppliers and manufacturers. A substantial amount of our continuous growth is based upon the referrals of our very satisfied customers. ”

Fencan Initiatives

Members and their employees have immediate access to resources, connections and knowledge that impact the bottom line.

WinDoor

WinDoor is Canada's premier industry event showcasing the best of the window and door industry. It is just one of the ways that FenCan helps members be at the top of their profession and serves as a leader for the Canadian window and door industry.

Webinars

We offer a terrific roster of regular learning opportunities with industry and business experts in live webinars – most of which are only available to FenCan members.

Online Resources

Topical and relevant online resources and programs offered through your membership.

Regional Events across Canada

Members participate in the Spring Conference and AGM and Regional technical events across Canada. These events connect members and explore local and national topics of interest.

Technical Consultation

FenCan's technical consultant provides valuable expertise, education and advocacy work on fenestration issues and concerns for our members and on behalf of the association.

Committees and Task Groups

Volunteer opportunities provide leadership and expertise to organizations and participants where they access inside information, impact change, connect with members outside their daily network and grow as a leader.

Member Discount Program

Members and their employees can take advantage of discount programs offered from safety training, to flights, accommodation, shipping and more.

Membership is an investment that will strengthen and protect your business!
